Archive Delete Utility (ADU) for MFG/PRO

Makes Your Job Easier

Taking care of your database is a lot like caring for your lawn. Whether you're there or not, it grows every day—more in the rainy season, less in the dry season. All you have to do to keep it under control is to cut it regularly. Sure, you can cut the grass... if you had the time. Around the house, there are always things to be done. That new deck. Replacing that leaky faucet. Before you know it, the lawn is out of control and looking like the rough in a PGA tournament. And at some point, it becomes a major project of its own to keep it under control.

Your database does the same thing. It's always growing, and there are other projects—that new system, the next upgrade, that batch of report requests—that need to be done. Who's got time to cut the grass?

BravePoint's Archive/Delete Utility is like a service that cuts your lawn. And while it's at it, the ADU cleans your gutters, washes your windows, and takes out the trash, too. In fact, it automates almost all the routine tasks associated with your database so you can focus on the important things. Like adding value, or the length of the rough on that PGA tournament golf course...

What Does ADU Do?

- ▼ In-line database monitoring protects against long-running and runaway processes

- ▼ Easy-to-manage history files make it simple to restore data or create historical databases

- ▼ Customizable error routines notify you via email or page if something goes wrong

---

- ▼ Standard routines make it easier to delete old items, suppliers, or customers

---

- ▼ Daily processing support lets you automate even more routine tasks, like G/L and invoice posting

- ▼ Standard reports let you keep track of everything you've ever automated

Sure, you can spend hours upon hours keeping your database well-groomed and maintained. Monitoring every little detail. Tracking every activity. Or you can let the ADU do that for you, notifying you if there's anything that requires your attention. And spend your weekends the old-fashioned way. Enjoying them.
